Vienese art-specialist Ernst Hilger opens a new gallery in the 10th district.

„An art-man is always dreaming about huge spaces for the artists and the art he loves“, says Ernst Hilger. Viennas renowned gallery-owner will fulfill his dream soon – on the 9th of October, he opens a 580-square-metre gallery called „BROT“ (German for bread). He plans three exhibitions a year and cooperations with other galleries. Furthermore he wants to invite museums and curators to get to know his artists and projects and to find together new connections.

The first exhibition in the BROT Kunsthalle shows iran contemporary art, it is to be seen from the day of the opening until the 30th of November.
